

Much of the current European product line will transition to Modere, in some cases with updated formulations, revised product names, sizes and in all cases, with exciting new packaging.

All of the products listed below are expected to be available at the time of launch or will become available through October/November 2015. Product availability may be subject to change.

Please note there may be some country availability restrictions due to regulatory or licencing status. Final product availability by market will be indicated via the Modere Europe online stores and pricelists.
